9 MEMORABLE DAYS - 4 FASCINATING PORTS-OF-CALL:

 All at the best time of year to cruise the Mexican Riviera!*

Acapulco, Mexico: Acapulco, which is virtually synonymous with luxury, is a place where the rich and famous come to escape. Take the scenic highway for a striking panoramic view of the beaches and mountains and note the beautiful lush gardens as you pass through Las Brisas. Make sure you take time to see the thrilling cliff divers plunge into the turbulent waters of Le Quebrada.

Ixtapa/Zihuatanejo, Mexico: Although Ixtapa and Zihuatanejo are right next to each other, they couldn't be more different. Ixtapa is a lively, modern infrastructure comprised of luxury resorts and residential areas residing on beautiful beaches along the Pacific coast. Zihuatanejo, an Indian word meaning "river of the yellow water," is a small bay and resort discovered by tourists in 1940. At the time, the only access to the village was by the sea. Your visit to this small town will provide you with some of the most breathtaking sights, including the beautiful Sierra Madre Mountains as a backdrop.

Manzanillo, Mexico: Highly praised for its diverse dive sites and exciting sportfishing, Manzanillo, Mexico, is a resort town of wide, soft-sand beaches and groves of palm trees. With its balmy weather, year-round ocean breezes and verdant mountains rising along the shoreline, this is a perfect spot for vacationers looking to relax by taking in a round of golf, doing some deep-sea fishing or just basking in the warmth of a sun-kissed beach.

San Diego: We'll end our cruise with a short flight home from San Diego. This will allow for a later departure, so we can enjoy San Diego and get the most out of our last vacation day.
